

17th May Sunday Rune and Card Reading

This week I was drawn to connect with the energy of Three Beautiful Angels and whilst sitting with them I also found myself connecting with three Archangels, and so I went to my pack of Archangel Cards and drew out one for each to see who was coming through to speak with us this week.

Reading no. 1 – Honey Calcite

Honey Calcite is a stone of leadership. It raises our vibration and enhances our ability to walk the path of the Spiritual Warrior, aligning with truth, honesty and courage.

The energy of this stone helps us to overcome obstacles and aids our recovery from any kind of abusive or toxic situation.

The Archangel that came forward was Archangel Gabriel. ‘Gabriel’ in Hebrew literally means ‘God is my Strength’. Known as the Archangel of revelation and communication, Archangel Gabriel speaks of the truth and helps us to overcome Fear and rise into the truest and best version of ourselves.

Reading no. 2 – Green Aventurine

For me, Green Aventurine, sometimes known as the stone of good luck literally radiates warmth and comfort. Whenever I use this beautiful little Angel I feel as though a rich warm blanket is placed around my shoulders and if I am doing a reading it is as if I am sitting in a bubble of healing and tranquillity. Hardly surprising that it is also known to aid our connection with the divine, bringing clarity and vision.

It is said to remove energy blocks and is particularly beneficial for the healing of any emotional issues as well as our physical organs. It is also said to help draw in New Love in later life.

The Archangel that came forward for this reading was Archangel Jophial, who helps us to clear energy, both within us and in the space around us, relieving stress and creating a flow of energy that brings healing, creativity and new ideas.

Reading no. 3 – Black Obsidian

Black Obsidian is a Warrior Stone said to bring protection on all levels. For me, I have always experienced this powerful little Angel as a force to reckon with, supporting me when I have needed to stand my ground and keep my thoughts words and actions in alignment with my core inner values. Acting as a mirror to the Soul it is also used for shamanic journeying and will protect us if we walk in the shadows helping us to see through the dark and to rediscover clarity and the light.

The Archangel that came forwards was Archangel Metatron. Archangel Metatron is one of the two Archangels who once walked the earth as human men. He is a prophet and a scribe, and he understands the mathematics and sacred geometry of universal law. Helping us to align our chakras, he lovingly supports and guides us to connect with our higher vision, to see the next step forward with clarity, with a clear and organised focus on our priorities.
